$3,000,000 CLAIM 'SWUNG' IN HOUSE

Representative's Letters Claim He Secured Election of Fort and Martin to Key Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- (AP)boast by an official of the Electric Boat Company, American submarine builder, that he had placed two members on the powerful house rules bers on the powerful house rules committee and engineered through congress a $3,000,000 company claim today caused an uproar in the senate munitions investigation.

Sterling J. Joyner, the firm's Washington representative, frankly took eredit in a letter written to Henry R. Carse, president of Electric Boat, in December, 1928, for the election to the rules committee of Representatives Fort, of New Jersey, and Martin, of Massachusetts, both republicans.

Martin in Congress.

Fort is out of congress, but Martin is still a member of the house and the rules committee. Joyner has not been present at the inquiry, which today brought in more names of high navy and government officials in conjection with a world-enveloping submarine sales campaign by Electric Boat.

Carse, visibly perturbed by the introduction of the Joyner letters, said:

This was followed quickly by the disclosure that on September 23, 1930, Ernest Lee Jahncke, of Louisiana, then assistant secretary of the navy, had written former Representative John Q. Tilson, then house republican floor leader, that contracts for two Virgil and Augustus."

Mussolini and French Ambassador de Chambrun had thoroughly discussed the entire range of Franco-Italian relations.)

"We can regard with supreme disparagement," Il Duce asserted, "those doctrines which come from elsewhere, from a people that did not even know how to write when we had Caesar, Virgil and Augustus." Submarines would go to the Electric Boat Company.

This letter was found in Joyner's for 12 minutes, thanking those gov-files when they were examined by ernments which had sent exhibits, Muscommittee investigators.

"How did Joyner get a copy of this letter from Jahncke?" sharply asked Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of the committee.

"I have no recollection of the matter," Carse answered.

"Corulal to French."

"I have no recollection of the matter," Carse answered.

Got Contract.

The fact remains, however, that you got a submarine contract in 1931." said Nye.

"One contract," answered Carse.
There was testimony also that Jahncke had promised the Electric Boat Company a contract for a submarine although its bid was higher than the navy department's.

At this point Chairman Nye declared:

"It is no pleasure in revealing this cogrespondence. No doubt Mr. Tilson, Mr. Martin and Mr. Fort will want to be heard, if there is any explanation for it. I feel, however, that it is not within our province to refrain from offering the evidence."

"Secret and Confidential."

Woman's Tears of Blood Baffle Midwest Doctors PELLEY IS SEEN RANSAS CITY, Sept. 6.—(P)—Kansas City physicians were baffled today at the case of a 28-year-old woman who once a day weeps tears of blood. Usually in the evening, Mrs. Eula Santa Maria, a patient in the General hospital, sheds the tears. The application of ice packs and medicine stops the flow about 10 cubic centimeters each time, but it occurs again the following day. Physicians studying the case said real tears accompany the blood flow, which comes from the outer corner of the eye. Mrs. Santa Maria entered the hospital August 22, saying that the bleeding had started about simmonths ago. A severe headache precedes the bleeding. AS FUTURE 'CZAR' FOR RAILROADS for that act in the event they become depleted.

Following is a statement she released for publication Thursday after considering the board's action:

"It is true that I lost by a considerable majority, but it is also true that by any fair test I proved my ability to discharge my duties.

"The insubordination charge was merely a smoke screen.

"Mr. George W. Powell, a former president of the board of education. a Harvard graduate, and a man of keen insight, and Mr. Arthur Scott, the youngest city official, but a member of one of Atlanta's distinguished old families, voted for me. It is a matter of extreme gratification to have such men display confidence in my motives and ability.

"The cards were stacked against me from the beginning and I long foresaw the result. I requested a public hearing through a desire to show Atlanta teachers that their pension fund is empty, and that civil service teachers are often forced to retire.

"I have had a large part in building up the public school system. It is the world's tragedy that some sow while others reap."

ACCUSER OF TAYLOR TELLS OF ADVANCES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 6.—
(UP)—Testimony that Harold Taylor attempted to assault another wo an a few hours before he allegedly killed a young college girl who resisted his advances closed the state's case in his murder trial here today.

Taylor is accused of slaying Faye New, 19-year-old Howard College premedical student. Her butchered body was found in a desolate region a mile from where Taylor said she fled his parked car in anger at his "rough" advances.

Defense Attorney Montgomery and Roderick Bedow, special prosecutor, were fined $5 each for contempt during a wrangle today when the state attempted to introduce other women witnesses who, it was said, would offer testimony similar to that of Mrs. Cost. The court ruled the proposed testimony inadmissible.

Cross-examination of Taylor is scheduled tomorrow. Indications are the case may go to the jury late tomorrow.

Strike Situation by States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Following is a summary of the textile strike situation in the more important producing states:

SOUTH CAROLINA—Six strikers, members of a "flying squadron," were shot to death in a battle with non-strikers and deputy sheriffs at Honea Path. An officer on guard duty at Greenville killed the state's seventh victim at the strike-torn Dunean mill.

NORTH CAROLINA—Motorcades swept through the state forcing more mills to close, and additional national guardsmen were ordered out to protect workers and mills. At Lincolnton a sheriff and his deputies arrested 70 pickets on trespass charges and jailed them.

GEORGIA—Leon Carroll, 27-year-old striker, died of wounds received at Augusta Wednesday when a trapped policeman shot his way out of a crowd. Two other strike sympathizers were killed Wednesday in a general shooting affray at Trion. Mills still operating bristled with guards but the number of shutdowns grew.

VIRGINIA—State traffic officers were stationed at Danville with orders to turn back any "flying squadron" attempting to enter Virginia, out affected by the wellow.

VIRGINIA—State traffic officers were stationed at Danville with orders to turn back any "flying squadron" attempting to enter Virginia, not affected by the walkout.

RHODE ISLAND—The state's largest textile mill, the J. & p. Coats Company, closed, adding 3,000 to the ranks of idle. The Royal Weaving Co., with 1,100 employes, largest silk and weaving mill in the Pawtucket area, also suspended operations. At Warren, strikers from Fall River, Mass., battle local and state police. One leader was captured by the officers and then freed by his comrades.

MASSACHUSETTS—Armed citizens patrolled barricaded streets of Dighton, in a state of virtual siege, and access to the mill area was restricted to persons known to have business there. The strikers' ranks throughout New England gradually increased.

NEW YORK—More than half of the state's 9,000 textile workers had answered the strike call but a number of plants operated unmolested.

ALABAMA—A "flying squadron" of picketers from Newnan, LaGrange and West Point, Ga., flew into Opelika in 40 automobiles this afternoon to close the Pepperell mill but flew right out again when they found the mill, guarded by 100 men with machine guns, running at full speed.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 6.—(P)—
Georgia's textile strike deaths reached the stark's 60,000 workers were believed idle Unlike yesterday, disorders were only minor.

Workers at Danville, Va., worked behind lines of armed guards after reports were received that the Burlington flying squadron might include that city in its itinerary, along with Greensboro, 70 miles away.

Alabama Is Quiet.

All was quiet in Alabama. Some mills reopened after strenuous picketing yesterday, but the state strike list still stood near the 15,000 mark—half of the total employed. Many mills in that area have been closed by strikes for some time, only a few being added since the general strike call.

Heated arguments between strikers and non-sympathizers gave way to a first fight and precipitated the bloody Trion Is Quiet.

No disorders were reported today from Trion, where two men were from the battle, but said he and his men were powerless to prevent it.

He gave a graphic account of the fight and added that "I was lucky to get out alive."

The Chiquola saw its night shift of approximately 350 workers come to work, complete their routine, and depart quietly. Then members of the day shift began arriving at the same time that members of one of the state's flying squadrons gathered to protest opening of the mill.

Finally, approximately 300 persons—a few of them women—were in the crowd.

Sheriff's Story.

Meanwhile police here were firm, permitting no picketing. Walter O'Pryor, a mill guard, reported he had been abducted by six men and beaten with a belt buckle.

Macon Area Peaceful.

Macon, scene of disorders earlier in the week, was quiet with the mills closed. W. D. Anderson, president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company and head of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, said his mills would reopen if the governor would furnish troops to protect those who wanted to work.

In Atlanta, police arrested two women, who sang the "Internationale" en route to headquarters, and held them for investigation. Police said they found communistic literature in the possession of one of them.

Special officers were sworn in at Rome and Cartersville in north Georgia as mills there continued operating. Police said they were preparing for trouble in the event "flying squadrons" Macon, scene of disorders earlier

Throughout the day they had heard rumors that parties of strikers from the neighboring state were en route to Danville to force a strike in the Riverside and Dan River Cotton Mills here. Employes of the mills, largest in the state, have ignored the general strike call so far.

At the mills, in Schoolfield just outside Danville, 100 police and special deputies were under arms.

Office-Seekers Level Barrages From Half a Dozen Stumps.

Atlanta and Fulton and DeKalb county candidates for political offices levelled barrages from half a dozen stumps Thursday night.

Alderman J. Charlie Murphy and Roy LeCraw, two of the three mayoralty entries, spoke Thursday and will be heard again tonight.

The Fulton county race, which is creating the most local interest, is that of G. Everett Millican, opposing Senator Walter A. Sims, of the 35th Georgia district. Both were on various stumps.

Asserting that a civil service for all city employes "would get a maximum public service from the fine group of city employes," LeCraw told an audience at the Adair school that he would favor such a procedure. He also stressed a permanent registration list.

Murphy's meeting was at the Kirkwood school and for the most part a community gathering of his friends. He will be on the stump, however, tonight at the English Avenue school at 7:35 o'clock, and will make a strong bid for fifth ward support.

Mayor James L. Key, seeking remomination, is adhering to his announced policy to allow the state primary races to "clear" before again taking the stump.

LeCraw will speak tonight at the Gordon school at 7:30 o'clock.

Millican will speak at 7:45 o'clock tonight at the Joel Chandler Harris school, in the seventh ward.

Sims made two addresses Thursday night, as did several of the other county candidates. He will speak at Sandy Spring tonight and at the Ella Smillie school at 7:36. Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, will preside at the Smillie meeting.

J. V. Poole, opposing Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton county superior court, spoke at Fairburn Thursday, and Young H. Foster, attorney, represented him at another rally at Palmetto.

Phil C. McDuffie, opposing William B. Hartsfield, Fulton legislator; and blatted the solemn disclaimers would be necessary to control submarine building.

Then Nye suddenly swung to Electric is ales in this country.

Human and Property Rights Inseparable—Liberty League

WASHINGTON. Sept. 6.—(P)—
The American Liberty League answered its New Deal crities tonight with a declaration that "human rights and property rights are inseparable."

While not referring to President Roosevelt's view that it overlooked "thy neighbor," the league executive committee statement—issued from headquarters here — foreshadowed months of counter campaigning.

The non-partianship of the organization was re-emphasized, following a hitherto undisclosed meeting in New York this week of the founder committeemen. These include Alfred E. Smith. John D. Davis and Representative James W. Wadsworth.

Proposal that the Fulton County Medical Society pool its resources in order that all pre-school children in Atlanta might be immunized against smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fe-ver was made Thursday night at a meeting of the organization and was referred to a committee for a report at the next session.

Discussion revealed that although all children are required to be vacci-nated against the three diseases, only about one-third of those admitted to schools have the immunizing serums. The plan is that where parents are hard pressed financially a nominal fee of $1 shall be charged for each visit thus cutting the price "so that it will be within the reach of every one and at the same time giving the children a much-needed service."

"Preliminary maneuvers are under way for a complete overturn of the theories of government which have held in this country since it became a nation," the veteran railroad chieftain told freight and ticket agents of the D. & H. at their annual outing. "It is a struggle between collectivism and individualism. Transforming our political system into a federal bureaucracy is not an event about which to be academic, and no one with faith in our institutions and old-time liberties can but be deeply stirred at the prospect now confronting our people," he asserted.

Opposition Flayed.

"I challenge any man to show a single thing the opposition has ever done for the poor man or workingman in this state. The opposition has made itself famous in this campaign for its trickery, misrepresentations, lies and willful misstatements. At times this opposition has lost all sense of propriety and good taste. For a public official to get cussed by a few soreheads is nothing new. It dates back to the beginning of political history, in this campaign and that is whether or not the people of Georgia appreciate a governor who saves them money and who keeps his word.

People Not Fooled.

"His opposition is making a lot of oise. They are raising heaven and earth. They are spending a world of money. They are howling from every stump in Georgia. They even have sent some political lawyers from away over there in Athens to Newman to harangue the people here with more campaign bunk and falsehoods. But the people of Coweta county and of Georgia are not fooled by the noise world of hey are making.

"The was upon an occasion a canning company that decided to start canning bullfrog legs. They inserted an advertisement in the paper for 10,000 pair of bullfrog legs, One night an old farmer who lived near a swamp and mill pond read the advertisement. He went out on his porch and listened to the frogs. They were raising hell. It sounded like the pond was full. The farmer went back in his house and by the light of his lamp on a creaking table wrote the canning company that there was no need for them to advertise for frogs any longer, that he had the frogs and would supply them. Next day the farmer put nets and wire around the mill pond and the swamp and he secured helpers to gather up the frogs. A few days later the canning company received a package on ice containing five pair of bullfrog legs and a note. The note said: 'Gentlemen, please find enclosed five pairs of bullfrog legs. I was fooled by the noise they were making.'

"The opposition, in spite of its noise, is not fooling the people of Georgia.

"If you want for your governor a man who keeps his promises, a man who saves you money, a man who is a friend of the poor and the workingman and woman, a man who is a square-dealer—Gete Talmadge is your man. The train has pulled out, there is now a scramble for seats on the Talmadge bandwagon and the election is how big the Talmadge landslide will be.

"It is now a pleasure to present to you, Georgia's governor for 1935 and 1936—Eugene Talmadge."

The directors of the institute, code administrative agency for the southern and Appalachian hardwood regions, made their announcement at 7:30 o'clock tonight after an executive conference lasting several hours.

The committee had been asked to recommend to the lumber code authority the abandonment of "fixed price" provisions of the code as applied to the hardwood industry.

A. B. Knipmeyer, of counsel for the opposition to the provisions, said that conference would be held within a day or so to determine what course will be pursued, but he emphasized that the fight to climinate the provisions could be continued.

THE MUNITIONS TRAIL.

Testimony before the senate committee now investigating the activities of American munitions makers has produced the startling evidence that manufacturers of war supplies government officials of other nations and have, in at least some instances, received the co-operation of come more active. representatives of the United States government.

In openly admitting the payment of "commissions" to government officials in Latin-American countries, the disposal of the coast guard, and representatives of an American munitions manufacturing concern naively told the investigating committee that "that is the way business has to be done in South America."

Following this frank admission of unethical methods resorted to in selling instruments of war to nations at peace comes both written and oral evidence that American munitions concerns have received the aid of diplomatic representatives of the United States and by naval missions from this country to nations with whom we were on friendly relations.

A letter, now in the records of the investigation, written in 1922 by Frederick Morgan, then ambasof the Electric Boat Company, of than $50,000, were seized. New York, submarine manufacturers, contains the information that this American diplomat lent his aid, over a three-month period, to the sales efforts of the company Not only was the company aided in Brazil by Ambassador Morgan, but in that country and Peru by Latin America to increase friendly relations with this country.

Already the revelations before the investigating committee have been sufficiently startling to make it necessary that the probers leave no stone unturned to unearth the full facts encerning the activities of American munition manufacturers.

The investigations conducted by the senate last year revealed that bribery played an importnt part in the securing by unscrupulous Amerlcan brokerage firms of huge bond issues, worth little more than the paper they were written on, and which were later dumped in the put on bottling tanks, and government locks have been put on bottling tanks. which were later dumped in the United States, leaving trusting investors to hold the bag.

At would seem that the muniflons manufacturers, or at least some of them, have gone farther and made use of the diplomatic representatives of the American of instruments of destruction.

News Behind the News

CLINKERS WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- The story behind the wholesale resignation of the retail coal code au-thority is a tale flaming with red hot NRA clinkers.

The authority and its 49 children are supported by the national retail dealers. That is, salaries and expenses of the code authority here and of the subauthorities in each of the 48 states and the Dis trict of Columbia are contributed by the coal men themselves.

No one would cry about that, except that the main job of the subauthorities appears to have been the fixing of prices for their respective states. You can readily see what an inferno can be smoked up when the coal men pay the salaries of the boys who fix the prices for them.

Not only that, but $30,000 (count up how much that is) of the contribution went to a Philadelphia lawyer as a fee for legal advice to the code authority. And NRA insiders say the lawyer is one who disbelieves in the NRA and thinks it is unconstitutional.

FANNING What really fanned the situation into flames was a development in St. Louis.

Loyal NRA men here say that the St. Louis school board tried to buy some coal and found the price considerably higher. It was told the NRA had ordered the increase. The attorney-general out there investigated, threatened anti-trust action and demanded that the coal subauthority be fired.

The NRA here then got busy and ordered all regional coal code authorities to submit their cost and price data to Washington be-fore permitting new prices to go into effect. The code authority resigned in protest and it is assumed some of the regional subauthorities will shortly follow suit.

Thus the NRA is getting coals of fire heaped upon its head for trying to decrease prices, and the code might as well be in the HOOVER There has been a lot of inside talk around here lately that Mr. Hoover will work a line into his "Challenge to Liberty" saying he does not choose to run in 1936.

Friends who have seen the manuscript swear there is nothing like that in it. They do not believe anything so definite could have been inserted by the ex-president after they saw the manuscript, although they are not sure.

They argue convincingly that Mr. Hoover could not make such a statement for two very good reasons—politeness and politics. It would certainly be impolite, if not indiscreet, for him to assume he is in line for the next republican nomination. Also, anyone knows anything about politics will never again reneat the mistake of Teddy Roosevelt by handcuffing himself too far in advance.

CAIFTY Those who have recently called at the Hoover home say he no longer is the hermit of Stanford. He always has guests at luncheon and dinner, and there are usually house guests around. His calling list is formidable and his correspondence

The ex-president keeps such close tab on affairs in Washington that he frequently knows what is going on before the announcements are made in the newspapers. He has friends (if not agents) here who keep him up to the minute. He has turned down numerous offers to write for magazines.

On top of it all, he has become almost gay because he has no responsibilities for the first time in his life.

TIMING The administration publicity gents hereabouts could show Bobby Jones a few tricks about timing.

Just a day before the resignation of Budget Director Douglas came out, the treasury issued a statement promising that the September financing would be confined to refinancing old issues. That is the first time the treasury has ever issued any such promises ahead of time. Old treasury outsiders did not know what to make of it until they noted the Douglas resignation. Then they surmised that the treasury knew the Douglas resignation was coming and smartly desired to offset any ill effects it might have on the gov-

Better yet was the fact that they put Agriculture Secretary Wallace to writing a book as soon as they heard Mr. Hoover was writing one. Both will be published about the same time.

POLL The Literary Digest, which conducted the recent poll on President Roosevelt's popularity, is now secretly conducting a check-up of its poll. It has sent out 10,000 cards, carefully choosing the addressees by states, so they will represent a cross section of opinion. The same questions are being asked them to see if there has been any change since the last poll. Early returns from eastern states are supposed to indicate a small decrease in the Roosevelt support.

Returns will not be made public, but, if they indicate there has been marked change in sentiment since the last poll, a new one will

NOTES Businessmen who are calling Upton Sinclair a socialist do not know what a good businessman he is. He not only sells his campaign documents and charges admission to his speeches, but, more than that, he prints a price of 20 cents on the documents and then sells them for 15 cents to make the nurchaser think he is getting a discount.

There are strong undercover efforts afoot to make constitution day a big event. Of course, there is nothing political in it. It just happens that more republicans are interested in that subject this year. Also more manufacturers.

THE STORY OF SCHOOLS. V—Teaching by Puritans and Dames

V—Teaching by Puritans and Dames
The Puritans who came from England to settle in the New World were stern folk. There was meant to be no pleasure for children who went to the schools which they set up. The purpose was chiefly to make the child "mend his ways" and to be strict about his religion. Music was barred, even from churches, because it was said to "bewitch the mind with siren sound." volume containing pictures as well as verses, was another book which was studied. It taught the alphabet by such verses as these: "In Adam's fall, we sinned all."
"Thy life to mend, this book attend." "The cat doth play, and after slay."
"A dog will bite a thief at night."
In addition to the Puritan schools In addition to the Puritan schools with their stern masters, there came to be "Dame schools" in New England. These were kept in private homes and were in charge of women. Small boys and girls went to them to learn reading and writing. There were no desks, but one or more pupils might find a place at a table, while the rest sat on chairs or stools or on the floor while the school mistress talked to them.

"Dame school" of colonial times

Among the few textbooks which the pupils used was one called "The Day of Doom." It was filled with verses of poor quality, and told about "the great and last judgment, with a short discourse about eternity." Speaking of children who were not among "the elect." the book declared:

"You sinners are, and such a share
"As sinners may expect
"Such you shall have; for I do save
"None but my own elect."

It was the custom in those times to make the first letter in each common noun, as well as each proper floor while the school mistress talked to them.

The dame schools may not have helped the child make good progress in learning, but we may picture them as happier places than the Puritan schools. Ranged around a large open fireplace on chill days, the pupils answered questions which the school dame asked them, or listened to stories which she told or read from a book. book. I were were a couple of tennis items of more than passing terest popping out in headlines during the past day or so. One was that Ellsworth Vines had been bounced from the box at Forest Hills by the badge-wearers whom he had priated, exposed, exasperated, excruciated and all but exiged in recent magazine articles.

Mr. Vines was there as a reporter and the fuming badge-wearers got their revenge by making him sit outside the press box. He had forgot his press pass. Which is a new high for pettiness but at that not a great deal higher than the day-to-day pettiness of the U. S. L. T. A.

Mr. Vines, our former national tennis champion, had gone her thoroughly into what was wrong with our tennis, espey our Davis cup tennis. And he came to the conclusion hat the U. S. L. T. A. was what was wrong.

Mr. Vines has turned square, to speak in the ver-nacular, and quit the amateur ranks for the professional. He did everything in his tennis articles but explain how the expense accounts of the amateurs are padded so as to keep them in relative luxury.

The leading tennis amateurs, particularly the Davis cup is, toil not neither do they spin. And yet the lilies of the houses are not clad as one of these. It is to be hoped that Vines will sit himself down or call in his ghost writer and

When Vines was here a few months ago for his match with William Tatum Tilden, I had the pleasure of lunching with them and hearing just what the two greatest tennis players in America thought of the manner in which amateur tennis is conducted.

Really, you'd be surprised and amused-no end.

THE OTHER ITEM.

The other item purported to be, and no doubt was, a state-ent from Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, one of the leading ranking tars, being national clay court champion, and an Atlantan, that was finished with "tennis bumming" and was coming home get a job and go to work. He was, he was quoted as saying, 3 years old and felt it was time to quit playing.

Bryan Grant never did a great deal of so-called tennis bumming. The Davis cup stars do most of it. They play the year round, and they travel to the far parts of the globe, being sustained by expense accounts.

It must be very pleasant to be bumming in tennis. The outhern ports of call. And then comes Bermuda.

If they are good enough they move on to some eastern play and then go to France and the littoral of the Riviera in France and Italy. Thence to England and to Paris.

By the time this is all done it is time to come to America the eastern meets and the national. And then comes the nter indoor meets and then it is time to begin all over at orida and Bermuda. This is called "tennis humming."

Lester Stoefen quit the University of Southern California for a year to see what he could do. There have been many like him. It will be interesting to follow and see if he ever goes back to complete his schooling or if he continues on with his year-round amateur job of playing tennis.

No one has ever been able to define an amateur. Some of ir cynics declare an amateur to be one who refuses checks will take only cash but this is drawing it a bit too far.

THE AMATEUR RULE.

To paraphrase Mr. Kipling a bit, one might say there are and sixty ways of constructing the amateur rule and every gle one of them is right. That is, of course, according to existing standards.

Paavo Nurmi, the great distance runner, is an amain the native hills of his Finland. The Olympic body holds him to be a professional.
Our amateur tennis rule differs from our amateur golf rule.

In our trapshooting contests only the amateur ters may win money. The professionals win only That is a frank rule. But do not think it is not violated. At our best trapshoots you will find some of the boys whispering that one of the amateurs is really

Our football conferences, in fact our college confernces generally, have their own amateur rules. They do not always jibe with the A. A. U. (As who does?) College players in the Southeastern conference, for instance, against the famed Celtics in basketball, they being a proonal team. This does not harm their amateur status in ege competition. But they would be ineligible in A. A. U. Professional baseball players may play in amateur golf. There is really no amateur rule. There are nine and ixty of them and every single one of them has an okey

There exists, however, an amateur spirit. And it may be in professional competition as well as in amateur sport. amateur spirit is what makes for great competition.

BACK TO TENNIS.

But to get back to tennis for a bit, one finds the game a bit

The major tennis stars receive their board and keep, their traveling expense around the globe for themselves and the wife—and have enough left over for spending money. And yet are classed as amateurs.

The golfer, on the other hand, may not have his expenses by the club at which he plays a tournament. Until rently the tennis player not only was sustained financially as and tackles went down on the kicks. Coach Mehre has been specially stressing this phase of the game, that of adequate coverage of the receiver after a nunt.

This caused a strike no later than two summers ago. The boys struck when it was ruled they were to be paid only as long as they remained in the tournament. The trike was lost but as the NRA came along most of the lubs went back to the old custom of keeping the boys or the duration of the meet. So there was no need to his career last fall, is bending over for a closer in-spection. Trouble is "Little Brother" Ernest is a fullback and a good one. It isn't often, however, that three brothers play on the same team. In the picture at the right are three great friends of Tech.

Robinson and Sam Murray. Mrs. Robinson is the former Miss Josephine Crawford. She is a niece of the late Joe Rhodes and has been an ardent Tech supporter since she can remember. Mr. Robinson is therefore a Tech supporter "by marriage." Sam Murray, now of New Orleans, was fullback at Tech for three years, finishing up in 1926. He returns to New Orleans Sunday. The Jackets got down to the first real work Thursday afternoon and snapped through a brisk drill.

Georgia Squad Given First Rough Work of Practice at Mountain Camp.

ATHENS "Y" CAMP, TALLULAH FALLS, Ga., Sept. 6 .- The crunch of hard shoulders against a charging sled resounding from the mountains this afternoon as 44 Georgia football candidates, replete in full uniform for the first time this season, got down to the real rough work at the

The center of the line is Mehre's main problem, the fiery McKnight's 175 pounds looking like a sub-deb during the rushing season as compared with the 200-pound bulks of Frank and McNamara. According to Assistant Coach Harry Wren, McNamara is the best end since Paul Goldsmith.

Coaches were only waiting on a load of sawdust to strew around Mehre's patented tackling dummy to start the squad on tackling practice. Rauidly getting into first-class shape, the squad responded nicely to the stiff workouts today, with the charging Warning to Hunters: Shun Baited Fields!

Commissioner Zack D. Cravey, of the state game and fish de-tment, Thursday issued a warning to those who expect to attend dove shoots this season.

"During our round up of game law violators at the opening of the season," said the commissioner, "we caught a number of good, law-abiding citizens who were ignorant of the fact that they were shooting doves over a baited field. In order to prevent the future occurrence of this sort of thing, I want to sak that every Georgian who is invited to attend these dove shoots this year first satisfy himself that the field is not baited before accepting the invitation. If you are convinced that there has been no buit of any kind scattered on the lands where the shoot will be held, go ahead and shoot. Have a good time with Georgia game. We want you to.

"There is one other thing I want to say at this time. The game and fish department is not playing politics at all, but it is engaged in enforcing game laws. I am again cylling on all Georgia citizens interested in conserving wild life to help us in our program of law enforcement and education."

TERRY SINGLES TO END BATTLE; CARDS WINNERS

Chicago Now Nine Games Behind; St. Louis Seven Back.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(A)—The Giants had to put on their seven-league boots today to take another stride toward clinching the National league pennant as the third-place Cubs extended them to 12 keenly contested innings before the league leaders could pke out a 2-to-1 victory.

The triumph, their second straight in a series that once threatened to be a "crucial" one, gave Bill Terry's cohorts a nine-game margin over Chicago. They retained their seven-game lead over St. Louis as the Cardinals turned back Brooklyn, 7-5.

Bud Parmelee and Bill Lee, a pair of strong young elbowers who hadn't lost a decision to the rival club all season, hooked up in the mound duel and there wasn't a sign of a break until the winning run was scored with two out in the twelfth.

Parmelee had a hard time recover-ing from the effects of one misplaced pitch in the first inning. Augie Galan caught hold of that and rode it into the upper right-field stands for a home run that nearly won the ball game

Lee, who recorded seven whiffings, gave up the tying run in the fourth when Travis Jackson doubled and Hank Leiber brought him home with Joe Moore started the winning rally in the twelfth when he singled through the diamond after Johnny Vergez and Parmelee had been retired on strikes. Hughey Critz advanced him to third with a smash just inside the first-base line that went for a double and Manager Terry followed with a single that brought home the winning run.

Lott Defeated; Grant's Match Is Rained Out

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 6.
(UP)—Edward W. Feibleman, a 34year-old New York stock broker, who has been serving as a punching bag for the stars on the big-time tennis circuit for 10 years, today gained his reward for patient, faithful work by defeating George Lott, 2-6, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the third round of the national tournament.

Unranked, unseeded and unsung, Feibleman took the Wimbledon and American doubles champion out on a field court back of the clubhouse and, with only a handful of spectators looking on, proceeded to outplay him. Inwith only a handful of spectators looking on, proceeded to outplay him. Inasmuch as Lott trounced Frank Shields and Berkeley Bell at Rye no longer than a week ago, and is ranked tenth nationally, the New Yorker's victory must stand as the most amazing tennis upset of the year.

HE REALLY BEAT HIM. It was not a fluke win. He won on strokes. After Lott, with his It was not a fluke win. He won it on strokes. After Lott, with his volleys splashing for placements all over the court, had swept the first set, Feibleman, using a down-the-line backhand, and a slashing cross-court forehand, completely spiked the Chicagoan's net guns in the second. In the third Lott, seeing the futility of making his play at the net, stayed deep and outstendied the big New Yorker from the baseline. In the fourth Feibleman deserted the baseline and, coming in behind his beautiful backhand, scored volley placement.

Lott had every chance in the final set, coming in behind but Feibleman wouldn't quit. He leveled at 4-all and then broke through in the ninth with a pair of sparkling passing shots. Lott was thoroughly discouraged now, and Feibleman breezed through the tenth at love.

and Feibleman breezed through the tenth at love.

Rain prevented completion of two third-round matches. When the heavens opened up, Donald Budge, red-haired California youngster, and Bryan Grant, Atlanta, seeded eighth, were level with two sets each, and Roderick Menzel, giant Czech Davis cupper, has just won the first set, 8-6, from Gregory Mangin, Newark.

from Gregory Mangin, Newark.

FAVORITES WIN.

Other favorites moved along serenely. Wilmer Allison never looked better than in his 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2 victory over Gene Mako, intercollegiate champion from California, and Frank Shields was a devastating force in overwhelming Jack Tidball, 6-3, 8-6, 6-3.

Sidney R. Wood Davis senuner.

Sidney B. Wood, Davis cupper, scored a very satisfying win, licking Frank Bowden, ex-Columbia captain, 6-4, 6-3, 12-10.

Frankie Parker, right on top of his game now, bowled past Robert Stanford, of California, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, while Labour Van Parker, in presents in Johnny Van Ryn was impressive in whipping the English cup player, Frank Wilde, 8-6, 6-4, 6-2. Lester Stoefen was a much improved player in taking the measure of the capable Herbert L. Bowman, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

England's Fred Perry, world's champion, easily defeated Jack Talbot, Easthampton, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

New York Catcher Throws Out Two Men to Retire Chisox.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—(P)—A couple of unusual throwing feats by Catcher Arndt Jorgens that enabled Relief Pitcher Johnny Murphy to pitch to only one batsman yet retire the Chicago side in the ninth carried the Yankees through to a 5-to-3 victory over the White Sox today in the opening zame of their series. game of their series.

JORGENS' FEAT.

At this stage young Charley Uhlir, recent Chicago semi-pro graduate, was sent in to bat for Catcher Eddie Madigeski with instructions to bunt. He failed to get a piece of Murphy's first pitch and Dykes was caught off second by a quick throw from Jorgens. Uhlir missed another attempt at bunting, then struck out. As he fanned Hopkins tried to steal second and was doubled, Jorgens to Crosetti, to end the game.

Ruffing was credited with the victory, his 17th of the season.

The Yanks got only seven hits off Ted Lyons but they bunched three of them, doubles by Lou Gehrig and Tony Layser and a single by George.

Murphy came to Charley Ruffing's aid after the cellar dwelling Chicagoans, held to four hits and unearned runs through the first eight frames, had challenged with three straight blows and another run in the minth. Luke Appling, Manager Jimmy Dykes and Marty Hopkins connected for base hits, scoring Appling and leaving the others on second and first.

At this stage young Charley Uhlir, recent Chicago semi-pro graduate, was sent in to bat for Catcher Eddie Madjeski with instructions to bunt. He failed to get a piece of Murphy's first half.

"My rookies have come through—that's one big reason—and the pitch-ing staff has been consistent," he replied.

Gilbert also mentioned the splendid comebacks of two of his punch hitters, Eddie Rose and Chick Autry, who were in worful slumps during most of the first half. Both, in fact, were batting little better than .200 during most of that time and thus Gilbert's club lost a lot of games through failure of these two long-distance hitters to belabor the ball as they were expected to do.

"Berger is the most improved ball player in the Southern league this year," said Larry, "and unless my guess is badly wrong, he will be the regular second baseman at Cléveland next year. I don't see how they will keep him out."

The Indians, it is understood, are planning on making a third baseman of Berger, which would suit that young man just fine, since he had rather play third than second.

A SLUGGER NOW.

Berger, who was woefully weak on a curve ball last year, has developed into quite a slugger this year and it was his home runs that helped the Pels to blast the Chattanooga club of the race in the recent seven-game series in that city.

Speaking of the Chattanooga club, Gilbert paid Mule Shirley's fighting outfit a real compliment.

FRIDAY'S GAMES.

Pilm Row plays Guy Henderson Service Station in the first game at 6:45. Second game W. U. Commercial vs. Selig. Third game Facts & Davies vs. Aristocrat Dairy. All games at Cherokee field, three blocks south of Grant park.

The Yanks' victory, while Detroit's game with Philadelphia was rained out, enabled the Yanks to reduce the league leaders' margin to 5 1-2 games.

Ruffing was credited with the victory, his 17th of the season.

The Yanks got only seven hits off Ted Lyons but they bunched three of them, doubles by Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri and a single by George Selkirk, with a pair of passes for four runs in the fourth. Their other score came in the second inning when Gehrig doubled, took third as Appling fumbled Ben Chapman's grounder and scored after Lazzeri's fly.

A pass to Hopkins, Lazzeri's fumble of Lyons' grounder and Jocko Conlan's hefty doubled to right gave the Hose their first two runs in the fifth.

Zeke Bonura, Chicago first baseman, returned to the lineup after a month's absence due to a leg injury. He failed to get a hit.

The game marked the first of a three-game series for the championship of the "B" division in the Atlanta Commercial Athletic Association. The winner of the series will meet Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills in another series for the association championship.

Both teams played on even terms during the early part of the game with both sides erring numerously. Gulf led in the attack when they scored in the opener but White evened to the count in the second. A three-run rally by Gulf in the third seemed convincing but it failed to hold as White scored consistently in the fourth and fifth with Pickett tying the count in the first half of the seventh with a home run.

Ted Radcliff was matched with Olson when it was learned that George Romanoff, injured in a bout here recently by Ross, would be unable to go through with his match. His doctor advised him to rest another week.

Radcliff challenged any and all wrestlers in the city, especially those recently appearing at the Key arena, to a match and when Romanoff was unable to fill his engagement, Radcliff was given the match. This match should be full of action and excitence.

Crussell has been out of competition for some time but after Ross defeated Romanoff (Crussell saw that match) he asked for a shot at Ross.

run rally by Gulf in the third seemed convincing but it failed to hold as White scored consistently in the fourth and fifth with Pickett tying the count in the first half of the seventh with a home run.

Gulf's chance came in the last of the seventh with three on base. Agron hit a long fly to center field which scored Williams for what proved to be the winning run. Fowler scored when Bridges was caught in a trap between second and third after a hit by Smith.

Spence, of White Provision, got two safe blows out of three tries for the best batting average.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—(P)—Colonel E. R. Bradley, Kentucky sportsman. announced today that he would operate the Fair Grounds race track in New Orleans this winter. Umpires, Grigg and Buck Campbell. Time of game, 1:50.

The final day rush to the box of-fice windows slowed down with the turn of the weather, but seemed like-ly to be renewed tomorrow. The first match beteen the thunderous punching McLarnin and the slam, swift light-weight ruler drew 40,000 people into the bowl and receipts of $194,000. OPINIONS VARY.

Opinions varied widely as to the benefits the fighters would receive from the delay. One commission house promptly jumped the odds to 9 to 5 in Ross' favor in the belief that Barney, who has grown considerably in the past three months, would be close to 145 pounds by tomorrow night. At 140 pounds in the weighing-in room today, the Chicago youngster was all bone and muscle.

McLagnin will strive to keep his 2028

The fourth game of the series will be played in Jonesboro Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

sufferers in a selling movement, recovered portions of their losses in today's bond market.

Just how much support the federal list received from the treasury was a matter of conjecture, but net gains in this department ranged from 1-32nd to a full point. Corporate bonds were dull and irregularly lower.

Transfers totaled $13,854,000, par value, with the government's accounting for some $8,620,000 compared with $8,750,000 in the previous session. The Standard Statistics Co. average for 60 domestic corporate issues was off one-tenth of a point at 83.8.

Homeowners loan and federal farm mortgage obligations were the liveliest gainers of the government section following a ruling by the comptroller of the currency that these issues, which are fully guaranteed both as to interest and principal, can hereafter be listed by national banks in their condition statements as direct federal loans.

Escend farm 3's rallied a point to dition statements as direct federal loans.

Federal farm 3's rallied a point to 97.12 and the 3 1-4's were up 13-32nds to 99.11. The home loan 3s advanced a point to 97.12 and the 4s recovered 26-32nds at 97.10. The treasury loans moved up 2-32nds to 10-32nds.

In view of the light trading, price changes in the corporation divisions generally were meaningless. Most of the rails were down slightly and some of the utilities and industrials were a trifle heavy.

South American loans were again in some demand, with the Argentine, Brazilians, Chileans and Colombians getting up fractions to a point or so.

By ELY CULBERTSON. World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyist.

A Successful Stratagem.

Often, when a tricky or "psy-chic" play succeeds it is largely due to the fact that an experienced playchie' play succeeds it is largely due to the fact that an experienced player is trained to play certain cards at certain times without perceptible doubt or hesitation. Particularly when a bridge player holds a queen and a jack is led through him toward the ace or king of that suit he will play a low card without thinking, especially if the play is made at the start of the hand when he has had no time to analyze the cards his partner and declarer hold. He will want declarer to play the king instead of finessing for the queen, and he will not give away by any uncertainty the fact that he might have considered covering the card led.

Because of this long-practiced ability to avoid hesitating, on the part of those who play constantly against strong opposition, a simple stratagem like the following will succeed as often as not:

You can imagine the feelings of South when his partner, after doubling West's opening spade bid and receiving a faltering forced response of two diamonds, immediately jumps to five diamonds and leaves South, with his terrible hand, to play a doubled contract for 11 tricks. But, being a hero at heart, South, metaphorically speaking, rolls up his sleeves and prepares to do his best. West opens the spade king, and upon receiving the encouraging ten from East, continues the suit, While there is scant hope that so much luck could befall any one player. South can nevertheless see that if all his dreams come true—that is, if West holds the diamond king, the heart queen, and the club ace—the apparently impossible contract may be made. But it will be necessary to lead from the South hand three times, and there is no possibility of an entry among South's hopeless assortment of rags except the diamond eight, which probably cannot be established without the loss of a diamond trick and thus of the contract.

The salvation lies in the hope from the south hand trick and thus of the contract.

Culbertson on Contract

Culbertson on Contract with a sponging sweetheart that does not seem to recognize his responsibilities? I hate to think of parting with him, yet I can't figure out the future with him. WORRIED.

Answer— There is no such thing as a gentleman sponger. When a man becomes a sponger on a woman's bounty he ceases to be a gentleman if he ever were one. The second question is not so easily answered. Nobody can tell a woman what to do with a man she loves, even when he is unworthy of her and constitutionally incapable of making her happy should she marry him. Her own mother couldn't safely advise her to give him up and certainly she couldn't advise her to marry him. The woman's own heart will deal craftily with her and her mind won't function clearly when her heart is involved—so there you are.

There is no question about it—the times are changing, indeed have changed as regards the conventions governing the relations between the sexes. Woman's entrance into business, her consequent financial independence, has cut a wide swath through what we were pleased to call chivalry. The woman that makes more money than her sweetheart or her husband stands in an entirely different relation to him from that sustained by the penniless and dependent woman to sweetheart or husband. Yet while conventions have undergone catacylsmic changes, while chivalry is laughed out of court, elements of character that we counted essential yesterday are essential today. The man that sponges on a woman lacks these essential elements and no matter how much a woman loves such a man much a woman loves such a man she has got to swallow an awful lot of pride before or after she marries him. CAROLINE CATFIELD.

TARZAN AND THE CITY OF GOLD No. 143

Warriors deployed on each side of a wide lane Warriors deployed on such side of a wide lane that led north from the golden chariot of the Queen. They formed in solid ranks, facing the center. Then they lowered their spear points to form a solid wall of steel, so that the lion could not desert the chase, nor seize upon anyone other

Behind each phalanx, the populace pushed and craned their necks over the shoulders of the fighting men, seeking points of vantage from which to view the impending spectacle. Never had there been a contest more fraught with exciting possibilities—Belthar, lion of lione, against Tarzan,

Then Phordos, father of Gemnon and captain of the hunt, cried out: "In the name of the Queen, silence! These are the rules of the 'Grand Hunt': The quarry shall move down the center of the lane of warriors. When he has proceeded a hundred paces, the keepers shall unleash the hunt-

For Almost Three Decades Will Ran the Elevator and He Was on Duty the Night the Holdup Man Entered. BY CHARLES F. STOOL

At midnight the lobby was deserted. Once in a while Will, scated on his little stool in the elevator, heard the clank of one of the scrubwomen's pails. They were working on the floo above.

pails. They were working on the floor above.

He was wide awake, although he'd been on duty for 10 hours. This was his last day with Penoyer & Company. For almost 30 years he'd been shuttling folks up and down the elevator. He ought to have welcomed retirement by this time, but since he had heard the rumors about the company's ceasing to give pensions to old employes he had not felt easy. Will was 65 years old—the age limit at Penoyer's. Well, he would know by this time tomorrow what his fate would be.

He wondered if old man Penoyer was going to retire also when he got to be 65. The man was there every night, busy in his private offices far '33 Plymouth Coupe 445 '84 Chevrolet Coupe 650 '33 Ford Coupe 445 '31 Buick Sedan 395

Will planned to ask Penoyer about he pension matter tonight when he Will planned to ask Penoyer about the pension matter tonight when he took him down. Perhaps there would be just enough time. Forty floors meant only about a minute in which to speak to him, so there could be no waste of time. That $20 a month meant the world and all to Will. Without it he would be destitute. His one fear at this moment was whether Penoyer would ignore him when he inquired about the pension. Penoyer had a reputation for being "hard." It was his one chance, though, of safe-guarding the future. He simply had to sak.

A red light glowed on the indica-tor board. That would be Penoyer, Will breathed what he hoped was a prayer and started the elevator on its upward journey to the fortieth floor. He had no fixed notion of what he was going to say to Penoyer, but he knew that he mustn't fail to address him the moment he entered the ele-vator. Time was precious. Every word would have to count.

The floors sped by, twenty-five—thirty—thirty-five—forty. Will stopped the elevator and opened the gates. His hand shook. Penoyer was

The man stepped into the elevator abeliand Penoyer. Suddenly he was brandishing a stubby revolver.

"Quick! Both of you!—on the floor. You. Penoyer, there's 30 grand in that briefcase. I want it! You—" the properties to Will—"eat soing to the interpretation to Will—"eat soing to the interpretation." motioning to Will—"get going to the bottom. And not a move from either of you or you're dead."

Penoyer's face had gone white.
Without a word he hunched his body flat on the floor. Will protested, shaking, "But I can't run this thing lying down!" He knew he was terrified, but a crazy, feverish scheme was wavering through his mind.

"Get on your knees then!" The stranger closed the gates, still with a stranger closed the gates, still with a wary eye on the two victims. With his foot he reached for the briefcase, drew it to him and picked it up with his free hand. "Let's go. Buddy!" He waved his gun toward Will.

On his shaking knees Will reached for the control and moved it slightly. The elevator began to drop slowly. Suddenly Will wrenched it as far as it would go. They dropped sickeningly. The gunman, caught off guard, collapsed in a huddle of arms and legs. The gun roared deafeningly. Something crashed beside Will's head. The elevator rocketed downward. Will's throat was congested, and his stomach revolved like a giant wheel.

The gunman was suddenly nause-ated. Penoyer, his body prone on the floor, couldn't have stirred if he had There was a shrill whistling inside There was a sorial whisting inside the elevator. The air was being com-pressed in the narrow chute below. At any moment they'd be at the bottom. The indicator buttons flashed. Ten, nine, eight, seven, six. Will's arms felt like lead. With an effort he rais-ed his hand and moved the control lever back. The car slowed. Will made a lunge for the gunman's revolver. The fellow was in a dead faint. His

On the verge of insensibility him-self, Will stopped the elevator, open-ed the gate and prodded the thorough-ly cowed gunman down the length of the deserted corridor on his hands and knees and out to the street. There was still some traffic on the streets and a policeman wasn't hard to locate. When they returned for Penever fingers were lax. When they returned for Penoyer they found him sitting on Will's little

Once a week I give mine a washing and dip them in boric-acid water. Buy a little at your drug store, or get the boric-acid powder and dissolve it in warm water.

2. The thing to do is not let your eyebrows or lashes get dry and fall out. There are some fine new creams to use called eyelash growers. They make them grow in that they keep them oiled well which makes them shiny, and with the aid of perfect cleanliness the result is amazing. You should try one of the good ones. ROOSEVELT GIVES JOB

TO FORMER HOOVER AID

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(P)—
President Roosevelt today appointed
George Akerson, secretary to Herbert Hoover during much of his term in the White House, as a republican member of the bi-partisan board of veterans appeals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(P)— The government's expenditures so far this year, treasury figures showed to-day, have passed the billion-dollar mark and are nearly twice the amount reported at this time last year.

BARTOW, Fla., Sept. 6.—(P)—
Mrs. Lucy Sewox filed a petition in circuit court today seeking to regain custody of her four-year-old daughter she said now is being held for a board bill. NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 6 .-(P)-Adolf Hitler stood bare-headed in the hot sun for two hours here In her bill of complaint, the mother stated she gave her child into the care of Mark Collins, at Winter Haven, when the little girl was 16 months old. today while 52,000 tanned young nazis from the German labor camps marched past, their shiny spades at present arms.

Der Fuehrer, in full view of all the tens of thousands of invited guests, stood alone ... his limousine, stretching his hand out in the nazi salute Under an agreement, the mother was to pay Collins $3 a week board for the child during the summer and $2.50 a week during the winter. as regiment after regiment of the "solas regiment after regiment of the "soldiers of labor" passed.
Government officials, nazi leaders and spectators lined the historic market place—now "Adolf Hitler platz".—for the review, cheering enthusiastically as the labor campers passed. Hitler himself arrived early, heavily guarded, walked to the honor stand and shook hands with all old reichspans (regular array) officers assem-Collins, the petition said, refused to give up the child until he is paid $565 he claims is due for her board. Judge H. C. Petteway has set a hearing on the case at Lakeland, September 10.

GIVEN SHEPPERSON

Fulton county's plan to pay the federal government $100,000 for relief purposes for the remainder of the year were laid before Miss Gay B. Shepper-son Thursday by George F. Longino, chairman of the county commission, who explained that payment of the four $25,000 monthly installments will be made if the banks will finance the county in view of the unbalanced budget.

According to Mr. Longino, Miss Shepperson requested that the county's proposal be submitted in writing before consideration is given it, and did not indicate whether or not the plan meets with her approval.

Mr. Longino said that county auditors are now working on a revised budget which will probably be com-pleted tomorrow and that upon its submission to the commission a meeting with the clearing house officials will be had the early part of next week to discuss the financing necessary to meet the appropriation.
